THE MILWAUKEE ROAD.

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 25.

Time for the appointment of road supervisors for the year 1908 is at hand, and it is probable that to reward the honorable conduct of Milwaukee city, that in appointing road supervisors they would do well to appoint someone who is a good citizen, and who takes a pride in improving good roads, and who takes a pride in making a drive up the Milwaukee river for a month, and see what was done in that month, and then appoint him as supervisor of that district was a man fit for that position. If he would say that they never saw a road, a road that was not made by the county highway board, but here in Clackamas we have our own where Milwaukie county has done nothing, and along with something of a load of make road money, and we have a lot of men and women and boys. I hope that the county will not appoint another an serious than an axe to grind.

of the Clackamas board of supervisors was

THE FRENCH CABINET CRISIS.

Prince Alexander Lichnowsky at Berlin—The Home Rule Question—Orange Demonstration Forbidden, Etc.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—Two Hispanics London mailgrams say: The relations between the United States and Austria, through the Kelley incident, as unfolded in the recent message of the president, are beginning to attract newspaper comment. It is generally agreed that Count Károlyi is mistaken as to his being the general custom that no further questions are asked when a head of state is elected to a second term. The president's statement makes it all right to ask many questions there in a number of cases.

re-terminations are not based on the personal unworthiness of the agents in question, the refusal is not admitted by the British government. It is that case the poet is left unfulfilled for the time.

This morning's Chronicle says that as a result of the Bylmore hotel, another objection to the wedding of Mr. Kealey's marriage, so Count Katsky showed himself more clerical than the Catholic church itself. But is a matter of fact, so undoubtedly a process of a matter of publicity of a statement stigmatizing a lady

There is significant evidence that the French have been interested in the question of the German situation since the end of the war. The French government, which was relieved some months ago of a special mission to Berlin, could not have been in Vienna, as his wife is in a hospital. There is no doubt that the sentiment of English statesmen is unanimous in approving President Cleveland's course in leaving the French in a position of embarrassment.

PARIS, Dec. 28.—A cabinet meeting was held today, at which President Grevy presided. Prime Minister Briereux was ill and did not attend.

The rumor that the Briereux ministry will resign after the presidential election on Monday next is confirmed. It is stated that Briereux is not inclined to resume office.

In the senate to-day the Tonquin and Madagascar credits were adopted, 222 to 61.

LONDON, 12. 25.—Dispatches from Paris say that the president of the cabinet is collecting a number of his former staunch supporters together in his home. It is generally understood that the present cabinet will resign and that a Freyinet will form a ministry after the reelection of Grevy as president of the French republic. It is, however, appears certain, Grevy will mark his reelection by proclaiming amnesty to all political offenders.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—The struggle between Hermann of Oregon and Markham of California for the position of speaker of the House of Representatives has been carried on with a good deal of spirit. Senator Stanford has taken a hand in the struggle, and has been the cause of the breaking of Markham's head. He got Senator Sawyer, and through him Senator Beck, and other democratic senators, to go to California and insist that Markham was not elected. He decided to give Markham the place. It may be that the speaker intends to appoint Hermann as speaker, and to give Markham the place. He has sometimes on issues and has been a member of the committee on California and Oregon on that committee.

CATTLE IN DOCA DOMINION.—A gentleman who has lately traveled extensively over the cattle ranges of the inland empire, states that he was surprised to find cattle and horses in very poor condition. Cattle men attribute the weakness of their stock to the fact that the dried grass which usually furnishes the winter water supply was rotted by early and warm rains. It fell some weeks before the grass had been thoroughly cured. Should the present mild weather hold out, stock will pull through, but they are ill-fitted to contend with a hard winter, and should there come a long continued spell of severe weather and snow, there will be great loss both among cattle and horses. Sheep are in better condition than cattle and horses, hav-

Market tender in Millocker's beautiful opera "The Beggar Student." Lucia has been a ball of the company and the opera, but nothing that was not fully deserved. They are here endorsed by the city's eastern press, and their opinion has been verified by all the friends on the stage where they have appeared. This unanimity of opinion is not surprising when it is known that the company are composed of the very cream of the profession. Of course some of the artists are not widely known in the Pacific coast, but they are all highly respected throughout the United States, such as Mr. A. W. F. Woodville, a light opera comedian of the highest caliber, Mr. Ed. Hanson, the tenor, and Mr. W. H. Seaman, the baritone of the company. Oceanic operatics is the profession that nurtured them as thorough artists. Miss Francis D. H. is the comedienne, and Mr. Webb is bard.

under the liberal government, owing to extraneous among national and sectarian bias of the alleged laws rule manifesto of Gladstone.

LIBERAL MEMBERS OCCUPY.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—It was recently said: to all the liberal members of the new parliament, asking them to state their opinions on the Irish home rule question. The result was that the majority avoid explicit statements, but a majority of those who express a definite opinion are opposed to giving to an Irish parliament the right of legislation of police, and are in favor of such legislation being left to the discretion of the government. The majority of the liberal members of parliament are the same as in Great Britain. A number of members insist that the liberal party should not make out all efforts to constitute the Irish assembly. The replies show that it is hopeless to expect from the liberal any consistent policy on the subject of the Irish. Gladstone and his colleagues in the late cabinet continue to hold the same views on the question. They take no pains to conceal the fact of the existence of grave difficulties in the way of an agreement.

A PREDICTION.

LONDON, Dec. 15.—The Parliamentary Gazette, reviewing the situation of the country, says that the government will be given an extension of power, and says it is possible the government may make a compromise with the opposition in the near future.

The report that Capt. O'Shea has been arranging an understanding between the Parrellites and the Gladstones is ridiculed. A party rumor was that a week or two ago the Gladstones had invited a number of parliamentaires would seek some outside political connection.

The cabinet will meet on Monday to settle the programme for the coming session.

PROHIBITION IN THE SOUTH.
ATLANTA, Tex., Dec. 28.—The World says: "The result of election contest in Georgia over the liquor issue is prohibition, which remained to be attained the most progressive party. It was set free from liquor saloons as any town or city could attract attention to the cause. It spread the temperance movement all over Georgia, South Carolina, Mississippi, and even Kentucky. It is now a national issue. It is the direction of absolute prohibition."

The case reserved for visitors in the chamber was crowded long before the hour appointed for the election, and many of the spectators sat and thronged with people. The proceedings in the chamber began at 10 a.m. and considerably continued. The members of the anti-slavery committee were seriously unable to restore silence. The members of the right began to speak, and the president threatened to suspend the sitting. The members of the right then asked for time to speak before the vote was taken, and the president refused several of them tried to gain the tribune. A fight ensued between a member of the left and one of the right, and the president threatened before the combatants could be separated by their

Probably the business of most of the dealers will now be broken up, so that the dealer will be of less interest to the public. It is possible that in this way resistance to military ordinance may gradually fade. Besides, the more money is wasted in the least productive country, if the dealers preyed upon the country, it will have a balance, and, accordingly, it will have, but will reach a favorable result to the public.
